Residents call for roads tsar to fix 'crisis point' A40 highway

By Alex Ballinger

WITNEY campaigners have urged the Prime Minister to call in a Government's infrastructure chief to solve West Oxfordshire's road woes.

The Witney Oxford Transport (WOT) group sent the letter to David Cameron in response to news last week that Lord Adonis will be called in to combat deadlocked traffic on the A34 in Oxfordshire. They asked Mr Cameron to extend his remit to West Oxfordshire too.

Mr Cameron's office responded to the group to say he had seen their letter and had himself written to Lord Adonis on their behalf.

Didcot Three still not found

A FOOTBALL pitch worth of debris has been cleared from the wreckage of Didcot A Power Station but the three missing men have still not been found.

A full rescue operation started one month ago on March 19, almost four weeks after the main building collapsed on February 23 killing 53-year-old Mick Collings, from North Yorkshire.

Ken Cresswell, 57, John Shaw, 61, both of Rotherham and Christopher Huxtable, 34 from Swansea are still trapped under the rubble.

Recovery teams have so far cleared up to 40m of the 20,000 tonnes of material on the ground and released photos yesterday (above) showing the scale of the mission.

Blueprint for major new Oxford estate unveiled

By Loughlan Campbell

MAJOR plans to build 3,500 homes, two schools, a park and ride, shops and offices on the southern edge of Oxford have been revealed.

A report unveiling the scheme has been submitted to South Oxfordshire District Council by planning consultants Savills, on behalf of landowners Magdalen College and Thames Water.

The development is named in the document as the South Oxford Garden Neighbourhood and would span 208 hectares – the equivalent to about 342 football pitches.

It would lie on green belt fields south of Grenoble Road bordering Greater Leys, Blackbird Leys, Littlemore and Sandford-on-Thames.

The report states: "Oxford is only able to accommodate 10,200 houses before harm is caused to its heritage and environmental assets. In order to meet the identified need for housing, land on the edge of Oxford or elsewhere in Oxfordshire must be utilised."

It is a document filed to SODC outlining the scheme before an outline planning application is submitted.

A dispute between SODC and Oxford City Council over the land has been ongoing for 16 years.

The city council has backed the idea of building houses on the site as a way of reaching the government's housing allocation targets. However it lies in SODC land, which has previously opposed the proposal.

Director of the Oxfordshire branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England, Helen Marshall, said protecting the site had been the organisation's 'baby' for many years.

She said: "The city council seems to be only interested in building more houses to extend its boundaries and therefore it's political influence. We are in danger of killing Oxford's rich green spaces that have become the city's golden goose."

The plans include up to 3,500 homes, some of which could be four-storey buildings, a site for a primary school and secondary school, sports fields, play areas, and land safeguarded for a park and ride site. The A4074 and Grenoble Road would be used as the main access roads.

Blackbird Leys and Greater Leys combined have about 4,000 houses, according to the city council.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "We are experiencing a huge demand for housing and this would help cut down on the numbers of those commuting into the city."

But a study by SODC published last October said the green belt land forms a 'distinct edge between the countryside and the city edge.' At the time, SODC leader John Cotton said: "Residents can rest assured we have no plans to rip up the green belt as some others want us to."

'Brilliant' Oxfordshire newspaper editor dies

THE first group editor of the Oxfordshire Guardian's predecessor newspaper has died aged 70.

Frank Rawlins was group editor of the Courier series in Oxford and South Oxfordshire from 1985 until the early 1990s before he left to start his own production company.

He then turned his hand to writing books, including A Simple Matter of Style, a textbook for reporters and writers.

Frank started in newspapers as a junior reporter on the Stamford & Rutland Mercury in 1965 before moving to the Peterborough Advertiser and then on to the Evening Post-Echo in Hemel Hempstead.

He moved to the Sheffield Chronicle as editor and then joined Tony Rosser's fledgling free newspaper empire, moving to Oxford to help launch the group's Sunday Journal, Britain's first free Sunday newspaper in the early 1980s.

When the rival Courier Newspaper group launched in Abingdon in 1984, Frank joined as its first group editor.

The Oxford Courier became the Courier Journal in 2004 as part of a merger with the Oxford Journal.

After a number of incarnations, including the Oxford City Journal, the Courier became the Oxfordshire Guardian in 2014.

Lawrence Webb, who first worked with Frank in the 1990s and is now a features sub-editor at the Daily Mail, said: "He was a joy to work with - apart from when he suggested my first name was too long and wanted to byline me Lawrie Webb.

"I still recall a story I did for the Courier about Phil Collins talking at the Oxford Union. I remember Frank captioning a picture of Phil holding his hands about two feet apart, with the words 'Phil tries to explain his appeal'"

When Mr Webb returned to the Courier as editor in 2000, one of his tasks was to get Frank back on board as de facto deputy editor.

In 2007, he forged a new career as a landscape gardener and successful author.

He wrote a book a year from 2007. After four novels he turned to non-fiction, and wrote a travelogue Holiday Of A Lifetime ... Never Again! It was released in the summer of 2011, marking the 100th anniversary of the 'rediscovery' of the Inca citadel Machu Picchu. It sold particularly well as an e-book, regularly appearing among the top-sellers in Kindle's Travel & Holiday section.

Tony Johnston, head of Press Association Training, who worked with Frank at the Courier series, said: "Frank was a brilliant tabloid sub, great fun to work with and also a fine writer. He turned his love of words into a terrific text book for writers that I still recommend to our trainees today."

Andrew Griffin, now a golf media consultant who was Frank's deputy at the Courier in the late 1980s, said: "Working with him was like going to finishing school. Frank showed me so many ways to design a page - whether the most important element was the words, the heading or, of course, the pictures."

Frank is survived by Joy, whom he married in 1967, and their two children, Sam and Chris. He lived in Merton near Oxford until his death on Friday, April 8, from complications following heart surgery. His funeral is next Tuesday, April 26, at 2.30pm at Oxford Crematorium.

Devolution study

OXON: Finance giants PwC have been appointed to carry out a £105,000 study into a major shake-up of the county's political structure.

The London-based advisors will carry out the study on behalf of Oxford City Council and Cherwell, Vale of White Horse, South Oxfordshire and West Oxfordshire district councils in addition to Cotswold and South Northamptonshire district councils.

They are bidding to alter the council system to create four unitary authorities and abolish over-arching Oxfordshire County Council.

The study is to be finished by the end of June and go to public consultation this summer.

Accused in court

OXFORD: The man accused of murdering an Oxford author in his Iffley Road home on April 7 could face trial in October.

Michael Danaher, of Hadrians Court, Peterborough, Cambridgeshire, appeared at Oxford Crown Court via video link from Woodhill Prison on Friday.

The 51-year-old, accused of stabbing 42-year-old Adrian Greenwood (pictured), could face a 10-day trial starting on October 3. Danaher was remanded in custody to appear for a plea on July 1.

Woodstock residents vote against development

Poll opposes new homes

RESIDENTS of Woodstock took to the polls last week to overwhelmingly oppose plans to build 280 homes on land south east of the town.

In total 411 people voted against plans for 280 homes off the A44 Oxford Road, while 73 voted in favour during the poll held last Thursday at two polling stations in the town.

Voter turnout was just over 19 per cent of the 2,542 people eligible to take part on the poll.

By Alex Ballinger

Woodstock town councillor Sharone Parnes said: "I think everyone was very pleased.

"Most people are concerned that it will go back to larger scale presented before.

"It's just overkill. We don't see any solutions, no school places."

The scaled-back proposal by developers Pye Homes and Blenheim Estate was announced after their planning application for 1,200 homes was refused last year.

Cherwell District Council and West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC) both had to decide on the application as it stretched across the border of both authorities.

Cherwell council received 844 objections to the larger plans, known as 'Woodstock East', from local residents.

The new plans sit within WODC territory and a planning application is expected to be submitted to the council in the coming weeks.

A leaflet has been circulated in Woodstock from the developers to make people aware of the plans.

The town poll was held on Thursday from 4pm to 9pm and local people were able to vote at Town Hall in Market Place and The Common Room in Fleming Road.

Residents responded to the question "Do you wish for the green fields including agricultural land of the South East of Woodstock (also known as, or including, or related to the so-called 'Land East of Woodstock' and/or 'Woodstock East') to be protected from development and urban sprawl?"

The poll is not legally binding but WODC will take the result into account when considering an application.

Pye did not respond to a request for a comment.

PM asks Lord to look for solutions

• From front page

The letter, signed by WOT secretary Maurizio Fantato, said: "The WOT campaign team welcomes the announcement that the Chancellor has asked Lord Adonis to take the lead to sort out some of the most pressing transport issues in our county.

"We are writing to you as our MP to ensure that our district will not be overlooked in the study in question as we understand the main emphasis of the recommendations will be focused on the A34 corridor."

News came last Thursday that Lord Adonis, the chairman of the National Infrastructure Commission, had been tasked with putting together a report on how to improve transport links between Oxford, Milton Keynes and Cambridge.

Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne wrote to the Labour peer and former transport minister last month to set out the Commission's next task – to make recommendations on how to improve transport in the 'knowledge-intensive cluster' of Cambridge, Milton Keynes and Oxford, including the A34.

In his letter Mr Osborne said: "The commission will make recommendations to maximise the potential of the Cambridge – Milton Keynes – Oxford corridor as a single, knowledge-intensive cluster that competes on a global stage, whilst protecting the area's high quality environment and securing the homes and jobs the area needs.

"The Commission will look at the priority infrastructure improvements needed, and assess the economic case for which investments would generate most growth."

A final report is set to be released by autumn 2017.

WOT have welcomed the report but are asking Government not to focus on roads alone, and to consider public transport investment.

Mr Fantato said: "We welcome the Chancellor's decisions to send their infrastructure tsar to Oxford as transport in our county is clearly at crisis point.

"Our aim is to ensure that the government doesn't just focus on one narrow corridor, or worse, on roads alone.

"The reality is that we have created a highly complex and semi-chaotic system and the only way we can solve this problem is by looking at it from the perspective of all the other corridors, like the A40, as well as ensuring the provision of adequate transport alternatives like the ones we have proposed."

The group have previously called on Oxfordshire County Council to reopen the passenger train line between Witney and Oxford that closed in 1962.

The letter was sent to Mr Cameron on Sunday.

A spokesperson for Mr Cameron told the group: "I can confirm David has read your letter and certainly appreciated the concerns you raised.

"He has therefore written to Lord Adonis as the chair of the Commission on your behalf, asking him to look into the matter."

Burglary appeal

WITNEY: Burglars stole jewellery and a Mercedes from a house in Witney before being thwarted trying to steal the number plate of another car.

Thieves broke into a home in Well Lane, Curbridge, between 3.20pm and 3.40pm last Tuesday, April 12. They stole valuables and the car keys to a black Mercedes E320 which they then took. One of the offenders is described as 5ft 6ins to 5ft 8ins, in his late teens and wearing plain clothing.

Shortly after, a man was disturbed trying to take a number plate from a car in Thorney Leys. He is described as around 5ft8ins and slim and was wearing a dark hooded top and jeans.

A blue BMW 1 series and the stolen Mercedes driven by a man wearing a balaclava were spotted heading from Curbridge towards Bampton and Brize Norton.

Campaigners bid to fight new canal and river rules

By Loughlan Campbell

A GROUP of Oxford boaters has formed a campaign to fight against plans to introduce fines for breaching new regulations along the city's waterways.

PSPnO was set up in response to Oxford City Council's proposed Public Space Protection Order (PSPO) for Oxford's rivers and canals.

It would give the council powers to tackle anti-social behaviour among other acts.

The idea was raised by the council's executive board last month and could stop boat owners mooring against land without the landowner's permission.

The group said: "The proposed PSPO is poorly thought out, short sighted and would be particularly devastating to the residential boating community.

"The PSPO is a broad and heavy-handed approach to deal with specific problems related to a lack of affordable housing and residential moorings in Oxford.

"We should not allow disproportionate measures which criminalise everyday life on our waterways."

The group believes it would displace residential boaters and that boaters would fear to heat their boats in case smoke from engines leads to complaints and a cash punishment. Up to £1,000 fines could be imposed on those breaching the order.

A PSPO for public spaces in city centre launched this year and covers persistent begging, and street drinking.

Oxford University masters student Cassi Perry, a campaigner and residential boater, pleaded against the plans at a full council meeting on Monday at Oxford Town Hall.

She said: "For me, the PSPO was the proverbial straw that broke the camel's back and has driven me out of Oxford, a city I deeply love and where my friends and support are."

Dee Sinclair, the council's executive board member in charge of the plans, said: "No decisions have been made, they are dependent upon the outcome of the consultation."

The River Thames, River Cherwell, Oxford Canal, Weirs Mill Stream, Bullstake Stream, Castle Mill Stream, Osney Stream, Fiddler's Island Streams, Sheep Wash Channel and Wolvercote Mill Stream could all be covered by the order.

Hundreds back Vote Leave rally

• House of Commons leader Chris Grayling (right) with MP Douglas Carswell

MORE than 250 people filled an Oxford University conference room on Saturday to back official Brexit campaign group Vote Leave.

The event at St Hugh's College in St Margaret's Road included speeches from the House of Commons leader Chris Grayling and UKIP's only MP Douglas Carswell.

Vote Leave was designated as the official Brexit campaign by the Electoral Commission last week ahead of the European Union referendum.

Speaking to the Guardian after the rally, Mr Grayling said: "It was a good event with a good turnout. There was a real sense of purpose."

The Conservative MP for Epsom and Ewell, in Surrey, added: "We want to open up our options for British business, to take control of our borders and to back control of the £350 million each week we're sending to Brussels."

Britain will head to the polls on June 23 to decide whether to remain part of the EU.

Police officer sacked for gross misconduct

By Loughlan Campbell

A 'SINISTER' Thames Valley Police officer who held a knife at a colleague's neck and shot at fellow officers with a BB gun was dismissed on Friday after a misconduct hearing.

Former Sergeant, Michael Bromell, had been working in the Cherwell local policing area and was found to have committed gross misconduct and breached the standard of professional behaviour.

Between Summer 2011 and November 2014, Sgt Bromell shot at his fellow officers with a replica firearm in a report writing room, and held a knife to a fellow officer's neck while threatening to cut his hair.

He also used a dog catching poll to lower the loop of the device over a colleague's head and pulled on it, causing pain to his throat.

Detective Chief Superintendent Tom De Meyer, head of professional standards department, said: "This bullying behaviour, from an officer in a position of power, caused considerable distress to junior colleagues who simply wanted to get on with their job of keeping people safe.

"Instead, they were subjected to sinister and overbearing treatment from the very person who should have been looking out for them."

Sgt Bromell also breached the standards of professional behaviour set out in the Schedule to the Police (Conduct) Regulation 2012 when he carried a 6-8cm bladed knife while on duty.

Det Chief Supt De Meyer added: "It is to their credit that the [junior officers] stood up to him by reporting his misconduct and providing the evidence that has today seen him dismissed.

'Such oppressive behaviour is extremely rare and a disservice to the main sergeants in this force whose exemplary leadership does a great deal to serve people in our area."

The sergeant was dismissed without notice following the hearing at the police's headquarters in Kidlington.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Which? Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

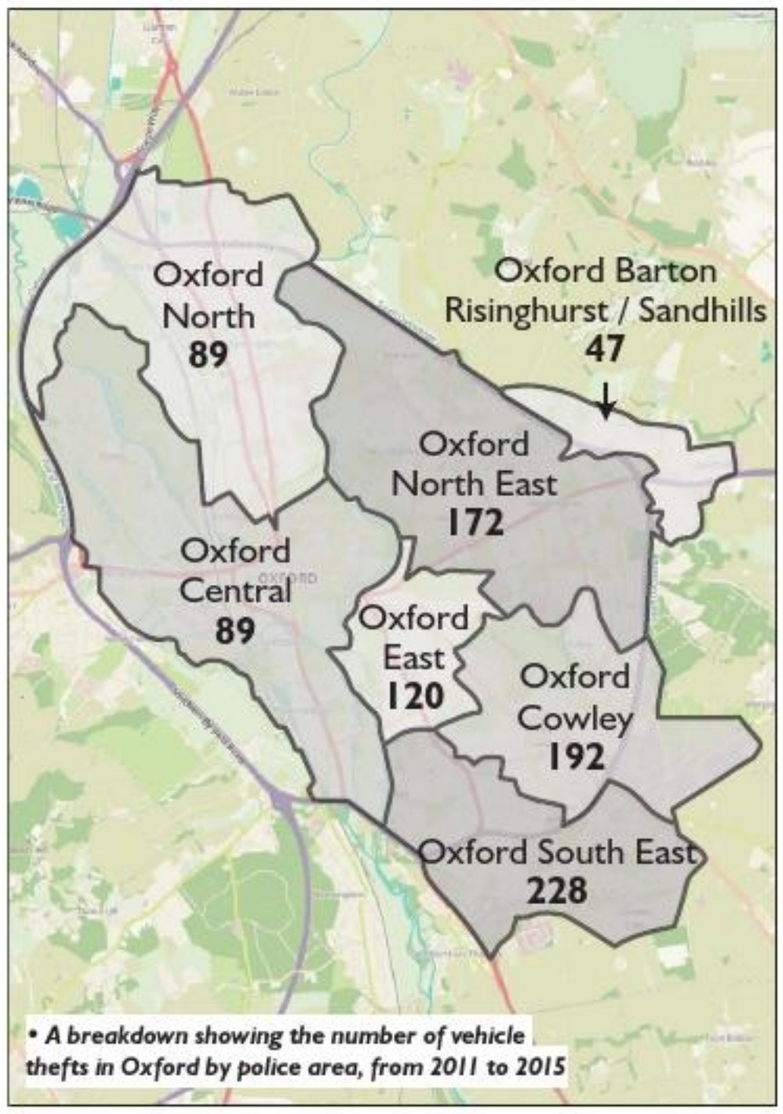
Vehicle thefts in Oxford jump 50% in two years



• A breakdown showing the number of vehicle thefts in Oxford by police area, from 2011 to 2015

By Alex Ballinger

THE number of motorbikes and cars stolen in Oxford has soared by just over 50 per cent in the last two years, a Freedom of Information request by the Oxfordshire Guardian has revealed.

Figures obtained from Thames Valley Police (TVP) show the numbers of vehicle thefts in the city jumped from 140 in 2013 to 212 last year - a rise of 51 per cent. But in the two years prior to 2013 thefts had dropped, from 220 in 2011 to the 140 in 2013.

They also show that the area with the greatest number of car and motorbike thefts in Oxford was Blackbird Leys and Rose Hill - TVP's Oxford South East policing neighbourhood area.

Of a total of 965 vehicle thefts in Oxford from 2011 to 2015, 228 (23 per cent) were in that region.

The lowest number of thefts in were in the Barton, Risinghurst and Sandhills area, with only 47 (four per cent) during the same period.

TVP spokesman Charlotte Redman said: "There is obviously a correlation between population density and vehicle crime.

"Vehicle crime is closely monitored and investigated by TVP neighbourhood teams who work extremely hard to investigate this and manage the offenders.

"Improvements in forensic science and mobile technology have also assisted.

"As vehicles have become more sophisticated vehicle crime is changing and car keys can be a target for offenders so we advise people to keep their car keys out of sight when not being used."

Oxford City Council's executive member for crime, Dee Sinclair, said: "The improvements made to vehicle security in recent years doesn't mean that they are totally secure and theft proof.

"Car owners need to ensure they take sensible precautions to keep valuables out of sight and keys in safe places.

"Fluctuating crime figures can often reflect whether regular offenders are in or out of prison.

"It is important to report any vehicle criminal activity as the police need to know where incidents are taking place so they can respond appropriately."

Music fans go mad for Record Store Day

COWLEY Road record shop Truck Store celebrated it's busiest day in five years as hundreds flooded to visit as part of Record Store Day 2016 on Saturday.

The independent record shop took in more sales on the day than they usually would in a week, manager Carl Smithson said.

Fans were queuing before 3am to get their hands on rare limited edition vinyls.

Mr Smithson, from Carterton told the Guardian: "It was the busiest day we've had in five years. It just seems to get bigger and bigger each year. The dedication of these fans is unbelievable."

Limited editions included a disc by Oxford rock band Foals, which has a previously unreleased track called 'Rain' on it, out especially for Record Store Day.

Mr Smithson added: "There was a really good buzz about the place and despite the store being flooded with people all day it was a really great day to work.

"We took more on the day then we usually would take in a week."

Vinyl fans elsewhere in the county also headed down in their droves to local stores with both the Music Box in Wallingford's Castle Street and Rapture in Witney's Woolgate Centre also kept busy.

Record Store Day was launched in 2008 as an attempt to boost the sales of records by bringing music lovers back into their local shops.

Election special: Residents get set to head to the polls on May 5

West Oxfordshire District Council

THERE will be a noticeable absence from this year's West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC) elections as the leader of the council will not be standing for the first time in 30 years.

Sir Barry Norton, who has been a WODC councillor for 33 years and leader of the council for 15 years, will be stepping down due to health concerns leaving a vacancy at the top.

West Oxfordshire is a Conservative heartland, home to the Prime Minister's constituency and the Prime Minister's home, in Dean.

It has been a Conservative controlled council for 16 years after the group took over a shared Tory/Liberal Democrat council in 2000.

So barring a major upset, the most contentious fight for votes could be for parties pushing hard to become the main opposition on the council - a mantle currently shared by Labour and the Liberal Democrats with four councillors each.

A third of the council will be up for election on Thursday, May 5, with a total of 17 seats being contested by candidates.

By Alex Ballinger

There are 73 candidates altogether standing for the available district seats, including 16 from the Green Party who will be looking to take their first spots on the council.

The political make-up of West Oxfordshire District Council

The three biggest parties have each fielded the total 17 candidates each vying for each of the 17 seats.

While five UKIP candidates are hoping to capitalise on recent national successes and the controversial EU referendum debate to secure their first seats.

Councillors will be elected for a four-year period to 2020.

There will also be elections held for all 140 seats on West Oxfordshire's 19 parish and town councils on May 5 as well a single vacancy on Chipping Norton Town Council.

Residents voted for one third of the council last year on the same day as they voted for their parliamentary candidate - won by Prime Minister David Cameron

Labour lost one seat and the Lib Dems gained one to make them the joint opposition parties with four seats apiece.

Results could help signify the popularity of new Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn's or the Liberal Democrat's new leader, Tim Farron.

Residents head to the polls on May 5 to pick their representatives

Elections: Oxford City Council

By Alex Ballinger

OXFORD residents are gearing up to vote next month for councillors to represent them on Oxford City Council for the next four years.

Each of Oxford's 24 wards has one seat up for grabs, so half the council is up for election. Two councillors represent each ward, but the other 24 councillors were picked in 2014 to serve until 2018.

Labour gained three seats in the 2014 elections to hold overall control of the council, winning 17 seats of the 25 contested.

Oxford City Council is a traditional Labour stronghold. The last time a different party held overall control was in 1980 when the Conservatives lost power.

The most interesting battle next month could be for second place.

The Liberal Democrats are still the main opposition party to Labour, but the Green Party could close the gap to become Labour's main rival if Liberal Democrats continue their losing streak.

In Oxford's 2014 elections Liberal Democrats lost four councillors, before nationally losing 49 MPs in the 2015 General Election. The Green Party gained one councillor in 2014 and got their highest number of votes in a General Election, despite not gaining any MPs.

This month two party leaders, Labour's Jeremy Corbyn and Green Party's Natalie Bennett, took to the streets of Oxford to drum up support.

The political make-up of Oxford

Miss Bennett said the Green Party could become the official opposition on Oxford City Council, while Mr Corbyn hoped Labour's control would allow the party to rally against Conservative austerity on a national level.

The Conservative party will be looking to gain their first seat on the city council after picking up 15.9 per cent of the overall vote (6,709 votes) in 2014.

One independent councillor, Mick Haines, sits on the council representing Marston. He is also up for election.

Turnout in 2014 was up significantly on 2012, with 37 per cent of voters heading to the polling station (42,612 votes cast), up from 29.4 per cent in 2012 (32,670 votes).

Polling stations will be open on Thursday, May 5, from 7am to 10pm. The deadline to register passed on Monday.

Parish council elections will also be held for Littlemore Parish Council and Risinghurst and Sandhills Parish Council.

• For a full list of candidates go to oxfordshireguardian.co.uk, or for an overview of West Oxfordshire's elections see page 10. An overview of Cherwell's elections will be in next weeks paper and online.

Half way post for solar farm shares

By Jayne Smith

A PROJECT to create a community solar farm has passed an investment milestone.

Sales of shares in Southill Community Energy have now reached 54 per cent of its target and the share offer has been extended until May 6.

Planning permission to build the solar farm at the Cornbury estate, Charlbury, has been approved.

Social impact investors Resonance have underwritten the facility by £600,000, leaving the Southill group to raise a further £1.32m to build the solar farm.

It will generate electricity for the next 25 years, feeding into the local grid and raising cash for local projects.

Share sales have so for raised £715,000 - with 80 per cent coming from the local Oxfordshire community.

Liz Reason, director of Southill Community Energy, said: "It's been a great week for Southill Solar – this new source of external funding strengthens our business model even more; and being shortlisted for two national awards is a real testament to the hard work and community spirit in this part of Oxfordshire.

"Thanks to this additional funding we are now very confident the project will go ahead, so we've extended the share offer to May 6 to allow as many local people as possible who haven't yet got round to it the chance to invest."

One investor, Ben Peters of Wise Investment, who lives in Charlbury, said: "As a business backing Southill Community Energy we don't just get the knowledge that the electrons powering our lights and computers have come from green sources. We will also get a financial return over the quarter-century life of the project.

"It allows us to have our cake and eat it, to generate financial returns for us, and also help to improve the community."

Southill said the scheme has been pre-accredited for the feed-in tariff, a government subsidy.

People can buy shares for between £250 and £100,000 and Southill said it aims to generate a 5 per cent return over the 25-year lifetime of the project.

Community initiatives are set to benefit to the tune of £750,000. These include refurbishing Charlbury Corner House, a civic hub, to make it energy efficient.

For more information view southillcommunityenergy.co.uk

• Southill Community Energy is also celebrating after it was shortlisted for two 2016 Business Green Leaders Awards, in the Renewable Energy Project of the Year and Marketing Campaign of the Year categories.

News Bites

Pub Watch launch

CHIPPING NORTON: A pub watch scheme to reduce alcohol related incidents in bars and pubs has launched in Chipping Norton.

It comes as night patrols were reintroduced in the town after a spate of anti-social behaviour. Since they were introduced there has been a drop in incidents by 50 per cent. No figures were given.

At a town council meeting, Neighbourhood officer Alex Prentice told councillors there were 24 criminal incidents in March, which included a burglary, four assaults, one arson and three drugs offences.

Cash box stolen

BICESTER: Police have appealed for witnesses after a cash box was stolen from a market stall in Sheep Street, Bicester, last Friday.

The incident happened at 10.20am. Anyone with information should call police via 101.

Skatepark open

THAME: The town's new skate park officially opened on Sunday- with youngsters testing out their skateboards and BMX bike skills.

Organised by the Thame Skatepark Project in partnership with the park builders, Wheelscape, the completed facility was celebrated by young people as well as town mayor Nichola Dixon and project members.

Music, a DJ, food and competitions helped create a fun atmosphere to mark the day.

Royal Academy art bid

A BICESTER artist is hoping her work will make it to the summer exhibition at the Royal Academy for the second time.

Alexandra Buckle, 35, has made it through the first round of judging but must wait for two further levels to find out whether her work will be chosen.

She initially trained to make silver jewellery and headpieces, but after a workshop in the 'reduction' linocut technique, she was hooked.

This is a technique whereby Alexandra creates hand printed linocut and then cuts and prints several layers of colour from the same lino block to build up an image.

She usually produces about 10 limited edition prints, but if she makes a mistake the entire block has to be destroyed.

It is usually on walks with her dog Dora that inspiration hits. Alexandra said: "I enjoy walking in our local woodlands and enjoy watching the scenery change with the season and different light and weather conditions.

"A lot of my work is woodland themed but I also enjoy other countryside views.

"Whatever I come across from day to day walking locally, or from visiting scenic places a bit further afield. I take photos on my phone which I can use for reference when I am back in my studio."

She has also celebrated selling almost 200 pieces of art via an online gallery, Artfinder. In just 16 months she has sold 180 to buyers from across the globe.

Alexandra is taking part in Artweeks in May and will open her home studio in Bicester.

Road chaos as new supermarket opens

• Bicester's new Tesco

RESIDENTS have welcomed the opening of Bicester's new Tesco store but raised concerns over temporary road changes near its entrance.

The new double the size Tesco supermarket opened its doors last Thursday morning after years of looking to expand.

By Jayne Smith

But temporary changes to the junction of the A41 Oxford Road have led to congestion on the A41 flyover after a left-turn slip lane was removed overnight.

Oxfordshire County Council said the changes were made for 'safety reasons'.

The highway authority said the slip road had been removed and temporary signs and road markings were installed at the A41 south in response to the newly opened Tesco.

It said: "These temporary measures will remain in place until the traffic management is put in place for the work to the A41 roundabout in association with Bicester Village expansion over next few months."

The council said road work to the roundabout and A41 junction at the entrance to the new Bicester Business Park, where Tesco is based, should have been done at the same time.

But work was delayed and now there was a 'conflict' at the junction.

The council warned people would face delays for several months and apologised for the 'inconvenience'.

Since the road changes were made residents have taken to social media to air their views.

Kane Gray posted on social networking site Facebook, "So since they made the flyover by big tesco into a give way section rather than a flow road to the left. Seen quite a few people race over it without looking right. Only a matter of time. Also the congestion on the flyover is now epically bad. With tail backs all the way back to the Langford village roundabout most times of the day."(sic)

And traffic action group Bicester TAG also posted on Facebook. It said: "Reports that the council's 11th hour safety changes on the A41 are causing delays. Pity all this hadn't been thought out years ago. Blame your planners Cherwell and your traffic team OxfordshireCC."(sic)

Fences have been put up around the former Tesco store in Pingle Drive, ready for demolition.

Bicester Village will expand into the site building about 30 new stores and parking.

New head of citizens advice

JON Bright has been confirmed as the new director of Oxfordshire South and Vale Citizens Advice Bureau.

He replaces Tom Fox, who has retired after many years in the role.

Mr Bright (pictured), who was CEO of Community First Oxfordshire (formerly Oxfordshire Rural Community Council) since April 2014, said he was 'looking forward to continuing the vital services CAB offers'.

He said: "I have long regarded CAB as one of the most impressive of all charities, providing an essential service to the public."

Previously he worked as a civil servant in central Government – his roles included director of homelessness and housing support in the Department of Local Communities and Local Government.

The CAB unit is based in Abbey Close, Abingdon.

It covers South Oxfordshire, including Thame.

Man in police custody after sexual assault in Headington

A MAN has been remanded in custody after a 21-year-old woman was sexually assaulted in a Headington park.

Michael White, 31, of Peat Moors, Oxford, was arrested on Saturday and charged with one count of sexual assault. He appeared at Oxford Crown Court on Monday and is now remanded in custody to appear at the same court on May 20.

The victim was grabbed from behind by a man while walking along Headington Hill between about 5am and 6am last Wednesday.

He dragged her into Headington Hill Park and tried to grab her leggings. The man ran away towards Cheney Lane when the woman screamed out.

Police are linking the offence to an exposure in Old Road at about 2.30pm on March 30 and another exposure in Pullens Lane at about 11am on April 7. The offender is described as a man aged between 30 and 40, around 6ft tall. Investigating officer, Det Insp Jim Holmes of Force CID based at Oxford said: "I would like to reassure the public that we are conducting a thorough investigation into this attempted sexual assault, which we are linking to two exposures in the city."

Roll up for Abingdon Dragon Boat Festival

By Alex Ballinger

FRIENDS, families, and colleagues can band together to sign up as a team paddling to the beat of drums for Abingdon Dragon Boat Festival.

Entry is now open for competitors to sign up for the 18th annual event on Sunday, September 4.

It is run by the Rotary Club of Abingdon Vesper to raise funds for charities.

Last year, 23 teams raced along the River Thames in 40-ft long dragon boats.

Organisers began preparing the 2016 showdown in January.

Rotary Club member Richard Benton said: "We need to get at least 20 teams so we can have a good day.

"It's a great way to raise some money, to have a really good day out and have fun on the river.

"People need to be prepared to get out and have a good time.

"The teams really enjoy it. It's all fun but it does get quite competitive."

Local charity Footsteps Foundation, based in Dorchester on Thames, have taken home the title for two years running and are hoping to make it three on the trot.

Foundation manager at the charity, Maggie Davies, said: "It's a really good fun family day out and a really good way for the charity to fundraise."

• Teams at last year's boat race

In 2015 Footsteps raised over £2,000 through the race.

Teams can fundraise for their own chosen causes and also contribute to the rotary club's chosen charities.

So far around five teams have agreed to sign up to the 2016 festival.

No experience is needed for the teams of 20 people – 16 to paddle, one to drum and a few reserves.

The race takes place along a 250-metre stretch of the river by Abingdon Bridge.

Knockout heats are held throughout the day before a final is held.

Rowers are encouraged to bring out their best fancy dress with a prize is available for best team effort.

A fun fair, children's entertainment, a bar, as well as food and craft stalls will also run throughout the day at Rye Farm Meadow.

Since it was launched 18 years ago the Abingdon Dragon Boat Day, now called Abingdon Dragon Boat Festival, has raised over £420,000 for charity.

Dragon boat racing has ancient Chinese origins traced back more than 2000 years.

Superstitious Chinese villagers held races to worship the dragon, a symbol of water, to call for rains needed for prosperity and better harvests.

• This year's dragon boat race will be held on September 4

Trainee chef who burgled family home is spared jail

A TRAINEE chef who burgled a house in Chipping Norton while a family was asleep has been spared jail by a judge.

Michael Lewin, 28, of Whitehouse Road, Oxford, was handed a two-year prison sentence suspended for 18 months by Recorder John Bate-Williams at Oxford Crown Court last Thursday.

Lewin was also ordered to pay £500 in legal fees after being found guilty of burgling the West Street home as a couple and their one-year-old baby slept at about 4.45am on May 28 last year.

He had pleaded not guilty and was convicted of the offence at the same court on March 17 this year.

His accomplice, Lenny Trinder, 28, of Fox Close, Chipping Norton, was sentenced at the same court also last Thursday to two years in prison, serving one year on license.

Trinder pleaded guilty on October 23 last year.

Recorder Bate-Williams said in his sentencing: "This is either a false start or the beginning of a better life.

"I'm going to give you one chance and one chance only."

A Mazda was stolen during the burglary.

Police may face charges over man's death

FIVE police officers could face criminal charges over the death of an Oxfordshire man hours after he was arrested.

Duncan Tomlin, 32, from Woodstock, was restrained during an incident in Sussex that police were called to after a tip-off on July 26, 2014.

A Sussex Police sergeant and four constables attended the scene at Ryecroft in Haywards Heath. Mr Tomlin was arrested and placed in a police van with three of the officers where he became unresponsive.

He was taken out the van in South Road, Haywards Heath, just after midnight when he was not breathing and officers performed CPR before he was transferred to a hospital by ambulance where he died on July 29.

By Loughlan Campbell

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) said last Thursday it has passed files on the sergeant and four police constables to the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) to consider charges.

An IPCC report also explains there may be a case to answer for gross misconduct.

IPCC Commissioner Jennifer Izekor said: "My thoughts are with Duncan's family and friends at this time.

"We have today made a referral to the CPS to consider charges against five officers.

"We will now await a CPS decision on the matter and will in the meantime engage in discussions with Sussex Police about the gross misconduct recommendations."

A Sussex Police spokesman said: "This remains an ongoing IPCC investigation and we are unable to comment on the specifics of the incident in Haywards Heath on July 26 in 2014.

"Our thoughts and condolences remain with Mr Tomlin's family and friends. We are working closely with the IPCC in support of their investigation and we await the decision of the Crown Prosecution Service."

The IPCC began the investigation into the officers' actions in December 2014.

A referral is made to the CPS when an IPCC investigation indicates that a criminal offence may have been committed.

The CPS will decide whether charges should be brought, based on the test set out in the Code for Crown Prosecutors.

Migrations stats

OXON: People from three crisis-hit Eurozone countries and three eastern European countries account for 80 per cent of the growth in the UK's EU-born population in the last five years, an Oxford University analysis has shown.

Poland, Romania, Spain, Italy, Hungary and Portugal are responsible for the rise since 2011, the university's Migration Observatory has found.

Director Madeleine Sumption said: "Some drivers are likely to remain in place for some years, such as the relatively low wages in new EU member states, particularly Romania. Others could potentially dissipate more quickly, like high unemployment in Spain."

Club attack arrest

OXFORD: A 36-year-old man from Oxford has been arrested on suspicion of attacking a man outside Kiss night club in Park End Street.

He has been bailed until May 7.

The 23-year-old victim was assaulted on March 12 at 2.25am. Police last week published a CCTV image (pictured) of another man they want to speak to about the incident.

The Randolph bans flambé dishes as post-fire revamp is completed

THE manager of the historic Randolph Hotel has said flambé dishes are off the menu after flames from a beef stroganoff being cooked using the technique sparked a serious fire one year ago.

The last piece of scaffolding was finally removed from the building last Thursday marking the completion of a £7 million repair and revamp.

More than 235 tradesmen worked on the renovations following the fire on April 17 last year.

General manager Michael Grange told the Guardian: "It's been a long year for the hotel and it's been very testing on the staff but I think the hotel's in a good place now.

"We've had to have a very strict structure put in place since the fire as for many months we were operating at a very limited capacity."

The fire started in the kitchen and destroyed part of the 150-year-old roof. Both the kitchen and roof has been rebuilt.

Mr Grange added: "Since the fire we've banned flambé dishes at the hotel due to the risk involved."

The hotel marks its 150th birthday this year.

The renovations were led property consultants Robertson & Associates.

Project manager Steve Waring added: "What happened was not a large fire but it had a big impact on the hotel."

In total, 14 fire engines were sent to tackle the blaze at the grade II listed building.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

ADVERTORIAL

The Changing Face Of Men's Wedding Attire

British wedding habits have changed rapidly during the last few years, and this evolvement continues into 2016.

- The average wedding now costs over £16,000
- The trend for cupcakes is falling out of favour, being replaced with trends like cheese towers.
- Purple is the most popular bridesmaids dress colour
- 18% of newlyweds now honeymoon in the UK and 34% in Europe

These changes are also reflected in what the groom is opting to wear on his big day. At The Cotswold Tailor we have noticed big shifts in demand in both our hire department and our bespoke tailoring service, when it comes to wedding suits.

In 2015 we rented out not a single frock coat, and demand for morning coats fell significantly. When we did rent out a morning coat, more often than not the groom has opted to move away from traditional wedding waistcoats, and instead replaced these with tweed (see picture right).

Noticeably with both my bespoke and hire wear clients, there has been a shift towards: more tailored, three piece, slim-fit, lounge suits, particularly brighter blue shades. With many of my bespoke clients pointing out the benefits of getting frequent use out of the lounge suit post the wedding.

Possibly the biggest trend, however, has been in the rising popularity of tweed. As country/natural themed weddings have grown in popularity so too has the demand for both three piece tweed suits, but also the more relaxed look of a pair of chinos paired with tweed waistcoats and tweed jacket. (see picture right)

This look has become so popular that 2016 has seen us launch an entire new hire wear range dedicated to tweed.

Love lost in New York

ANDREW Lloyd Webber and Don Black's musical 'Tell Me on a Sunday' follows an English girl who crossed the Atlantic in search of success and love.

By James Richings

But heartbreak after heartbreak leaves Emma wondering if New York was the right decision.

The one-woman show is at Oxford's New Theatre on Thursday, April 28, and taking centre stage is actress Jodie Prenger.

She said: "We've all gone through what she goes through, bought the t-shirt, got the scars and I really understand her.

"It's so brilliantly written and we've gone through the lyrics with a fine toothcomb and they aren't just lyrics, it's a script set to music.

"She's got the guy who cheats on her, then the man whose pink mansion should have told her something, the younger man that she pins her hopes on but it crumbles and then the married man.

"I've been cheated on, lied to, had horrible things said to me but I think women have a certain strength – a fight in them which makes them get up again and carry on despite the knockbacks.

"We've all been in relationships that we keep trying to make work even though we know it's not quite right, and the wonderful thing about Emma is that when she reaches the point where she wants to run back to the safety of her mum, she finds a new strength."

The musical was an instant hit when it first took to the stage in 1979, with music written by Lloyd Webber and lyrics by Black.

And for Jodie, who made her name winning theatre focused talent show 'I'd Do Anything' in 2008, the opportunity to perform in a Lloyd Webber musical was too good to turn down.

"The songs are beautiful, little gems," she said.

"Years and years ago I had a 'best of the musicals' double cassette and it had 'Take That Look Off Your Face' and 'Tell Me on a Sunday' on it – I loved it and played it over and over.

'All the songs together create a journey that every woman has gone through at some point in her life, and 'Tell Me on a Sunday' is a song that really affects people."

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £23.50 to £33.90.

Ocean in Oxford

LIVE MUSIC: Music legend Billy Ocean will be performing at the O2 Academy in Oxford on Friday, April 22.

The 66-year-old, whose real name is Leslie Charles, is in Cowley Road to celebrate the 30th anniversary of his UK hit, 'When the Going Gets Tough, the Tough Gets Going'.

Foot-tapping folk tunes by songwriter Fay Hield

FOLK musician Fay Hield will visit The Mill Arts Centre in Banbury on Sunday, April 24.

The musician is at the Spiceball Park venue as part of a nationwide tour following the release of her fourth studio album 'Old Adam'.

And with number three 'The Full English' having bagged two prizes at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards in 2014, Fay hopes her latest record will follow suit.

"'Old Adam' is a collection of reworked traditional songs, so the set on the night will feature tracks from that," Fay said.

"The sound varies from festival stomping to ethereal atmospheric, at times a bit dark, and there are always choruses to join in with and foot-tapping tunes."

Fay on the tour with her stellar band, The Hurricane Party, which consists of Rob Harbron (English Concertina, fiddle, vocals), Sam Sweeney (fiddle, viola, cello, nyckelharpa, vocals), Roger Wilson (fiddle, guitar, mandolin and vocals), expanded to include Ben Nicholls (Bass) and Toby Kearney (Percussion).

By James Richings

Formed in 2012, the group supported her on her second album 'Orfeo', released in May 2012.

"I am fundamentally an unaccompanied singer, and while that's a form I love, the audience for it is dedicated, but small," Fay told the Guardian.

"I wanted to bring really exciting traditional music to more people.

"I asked people to join the band, not particularly because of what instrument they play but because of their approach to making music and how we all fire off each other to make these songs come to life."

Tickets cost £17.50 and the gig starts at 8pm.

The Jericho Tavern presents Blair Dunlop

HE may have stepped into the spotlight as a young Willy Wonka in 2005 blockbuster Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, but Blair Dunlop has found music another calling.

By James Richings

The guitarist, and singer-songwriter is no stranger to the stage, or Oxfordshire for that matter. But a trip to The Jericho Tavern will be his first on Saturday, April 23.

Originally from Derbyshire, the 24-year-old folk artist is at the Walton Street venue following the release of his latest album 'Gilded'.

He said: "I've never played at the Jericho, but I've played quite a lot around Oxfordshire.

"Cropredy and Cornbury festivals immediately come to mind and I've always been well received.

"So more of the same please, Oxford!

A career in the entertainment world has always been beckoning.

His dad, Ashley Hutchings, was a bassist, vocalist, songwriter, band leader and writer for folk-rock groups including Steeleye Span, The Albion Band and Fairpoint Convention.

But despite Blair tipping his toe into the film industry, he believes music could be the right fit for him.

And his conviction is backed by success winning the 2013 Horizion Award at the BBC Folk Awards.

"Being a full-time musician is simultaneously a real pleasure and a bit of chore at times," he said. "I do feel incredibly fortunate to do what I do for a living, and I genuinely have a great life.

"However, it's tough right now for artists to get paid fairly for their work in the digital age but I'm lucky as I've always played live regularly which is a good source of income, but it's not without its challenges.

"It's definitely a time of opportunity in the arts, I just hope we find a way as an industry to cease polarising artistic work so heavily in favour of commercial labels and artists.

"I suppose its supply and demand, though, and there is a lot of great commercial music out there."

But drama is not completely out the picture.

He added: "I used to do a spot of acting so I'd probably that if my music career didn't take off.

"My flatmate is acting right now and it's kind of given me the bug again.

"Other than that, perhaps sports journalism though they say you shouldn't mix work and play. Already failed miserably on that!"

The gig starts at 7.30pm and costs £12.

National Pet Month

Dogs Need a Holiday too

AS we are a nation renowned for our love of animals, it is not surprising that many dog owners feel uncomfortable at the thought of going away and leaving their best friend behind, especially if kennels are not for them.

Wagging Tails provide a home from home dog boarding service where dogs stay with one of their carefully selected carers as a member of the family for their very own holiday. All of their carers are experienced dog owners and are at home during the day to give the dogs the warmth and comfort they would get at home, along with plenty of exercise and attention.

Owners and their dogs get to meet the carer before the holiday begins to give them the reassurance of knowing where their dogs will be staying and the dogs get a chance to familiarise themselves with their holiday home.

Matching dogs to the most suitable carer is paramount to Wagging Tails, to ensure that the dogs are content and their owners can then relax whilst they are away; carers will only look after one family's dog(s) at any time.

Due to the popularity of this service Wagging Tails are always interested to hear from dog lovers wishing to join their team of carers throughout Oxfordshire. If you think you could welcome a dog into your family or would like further information about the service, please visit www.waggingtailsuk.co.uk or call Teresa on 07762 132329

Choosing a memorial

WHEN choosing a memorial, it is important that you make the right choice because a memorial is a lasting monument and a tribute to a person's life, who was dearly loved, it is important to choose it carefully.

Hasty decisions made while still in great distress may cause later regrets so it may be sensible to take time in selecting a suitable design and to think about the inscription. M.J.Sly of Marlborough have been advising clients about memorials since 1992. Founder Martin Sly has 30 years experience in creating designs in stone, marble and granite. Materials are imported from as far as India, China and Italy in many colours.

Help is given with choosing the correct material and design whether for a churchyard or a cemetery.

Designs can be seen from a full colour brochure, from the website www.mjsly.co.uk or a visit to the studio showrooms in Marlborough with over 500 memorials to choose from.

TROUBLE

"Trouble are a genuine tribute act who have gone to extremes to get the right look and sound and to really tell the story of Elvis Presley in and through his music. This places them far above the Elvis "impersonators" who perform with backing tracks. If there is a better Elvis tribute out there I have not seen it." Brian Harrington

West Berkshire based Elvis tribute band TROUBLE celebrated their first year of performing live shows in December 2015 and are rapidly rising to become one of the best known Elvis tribute shows in the south. Trouble is a 7 piece band led by talented singer Darren Boyce who takes on the Elvis role, joined by a great group of musicians featuring Max Hunt on Keyboards plus Guitarist, Bass player, Drummer and backing Vocalists.

The band was formed in 2014 to produce a top quality authentic Elvis tribute show covering the 1950s through to Elvis's last recordings and features rare and top quality projected imagery and even the use of lazers. The band's passion and dynamism hasn't waned, as they continue to recreate some of the amazing moments of "The King" , where the songs are amazingly authentic and you won't be able to stop joining in with your favourites. If you're an Elvis fan or just like his music, this a great tribute and unforgettable Elvis experience, that will have you captivated from the moment the show starts, reliving some of the excitement the King and his performances created.

A Little Less conversation - A Evening with TROUBLE performing ELVIS will take place on Saturday 30th April at the fantastic Didcot Civic Centre, Didcot, where the band return for their second year in a row. The evening will consist of a 3 set show, performing some of the favourite ballads the King released and plenty of Rock'nRoll giving a great opportunity to dance the night away.

TROUBLE will be performing their brand new 2016 show, including 3 full sets with many new numbers, new costumes and a new enhanced seven piece line-up. The show is over three hours long with plenty of good music for dancing from the start. The band have further developed their own self-contained lighting and projection show, with new effects and imagery making the whole show a complete audio/visual experience, telling the story of one of the greatest live performers of all time.

The doors will open at 7:00PM with dinner being served from 7:45pm

Study for a 2-year degree in creative media

SAE Institute Oxford's portfolio expands; in addition to nurturing the next generation of creative media students, its added Music Business to its portfolio, and plans new creative media degree programmes for September 2016.

Current students are studying a 2-year BA/BSc (Hons) degree programmes in Audio Production, Music Business, Digital Film Making and Interactive Animation.

But the good news is, that from September 2016, SAE Oxford is expanding the range of Higher Education degree courses to encompass key elements of the creative media industry by introducing Game Art Animation, Visual Effects Animation, Digital Film Production and Web Development. These courses are newly validated by Middlesex University.

SAE Institute, Oxford already has an impressive track record. Since it opened in 2008, the campus has gained a reputation for combining creative talent with a strong community spirit sponsoring such events as the High Sheriff's Challenge and supporting local schools and creative culture organisations in the county.

Audio and film students have been able to give technical support to live events such as music festivals, stage productions and community events gaining that all-important hands-on experience.

Formally opened by HRH The Duke of York in 2012, the Littlemore Park campus complex is also home to SAE's World Headquarters and global operation, a network of 54 campuses spanning 28 countries.

Although more than half the students are from Britain and Europe, some have travelled from as far as the United States, Mexico, South America, the Middle East, the Far East, Eastern Europe and Australia to study at SAE Oxford.

Celebrating its 40th anniversary this year, SAE Institute Global CEO Scott Jones said the company's growth had been underpinned by a commitment to world-class quality and he was looking forward to embarking on another monumental year for the Institute.

"It's a privilege to work and lead SAE Institute, especially with the level of talented students and teachers I get to interact with on a daily basis," he said.

"SAE is such an incredible educational business, transforming and enabling the next generation of creatives to reach their goals and dreams. We provide an environment where students feel a sense of belonging, work collaboratively with peers and industry, get real world experience and build the technical and soft skills needed to forge a successful career.

"Our facilities, constant innovation and industry leading programs further enhance the SAE experience. With the pace of technology innovation for both creative and non-creative industries, I am really excited about what lies ahead for SAE Institute and the next 40 years."

Not surprisingly, like all SAE campuses around the world, Oxford has strong connections with the creative media industries through inspirational training from lecturers who are respected industry professionals themselves."

SAE Institute film students are able to benefit from the partnership with The Tiffen Company, a leading manufacturer of award-winning imaging accessories that include the Steadicam camera stabilization gear.

A specialised Steadicam Authorised Education Curriculum has been integrated into the Digital Film Making course offering, providing students a structured lesson plan in the techniques of Steadicam operation coupled with hands-on experience using the award-winning camera stabilization gear.

Wander through the spacious corridors and creative spaces of this impressive campus and you're likely to come across professional Steadicam operators from the world of movies, television shows, documentaries, news and reality programmes taking part in the Steadicam gold, silver or bronze workshops.

Space is all-important when it comes to filmmaking and SAE Oxford certainly has an abundance of that, complete with Green Screen studio and film editing facilities.

The film department also boasts and impressive inventory of industry standard equipment including the Red One digital cinema camera, a favourite with Hollywood cinematographer's and producers.

For those budding DJ's and audio students who are ambitious for a career in radio there is the opportunity to gain first hand experience and knowledge of Energy Groove Radio, broadcast from the heart of SAE Oxford campus.

Energy Groove's partnership with SAE Institute has allowed talented up-and-coming students currently studying with SAE to have a 'voice' on the radio and develop their audio skills by becoming directly involved in the day-to-day running of a live broadcast radio station.

Studying at SAE Oxford can certainly work up an appetite – with this mind the campus café aptly named Live and Let Dine allows students to enjoy breakfast or lunch, play pool or even giant Jenga while listening to Energy Groove Radio broadcasting live in the background from it's campus studio.

To arrange a personal tour of SAE Institute, Oxford please see our website www.sae.edu/gbr/

Volvo impresses on all counts

THERE are three reasons why you would buy a Volvo.

Firstly, it is one of the safest cars around; secondly, they are designed to do everything with minimal fuss; and thirdly, because you have now grown up and the thought of doing 600mph in a hot hatch has had its day.

So, how did the XC70 fair when I took 'her' out for a spin to Cardiff?

I don't know much about Cardiff – I know they have lots of clubs and bars – but did you know that the oldest record store in the world can be found in Cardiff?

Spillers Records was opened in 1894 and though it's not in its original location, you can find it at The Morgan Arcade.

ENGINE: The XC70 I had was fitted with a five cylinder 2,400cc diesel engine. 0-62mph is dealt with in around 9.5sec (auto) and with a top speed of 124mph.

The big plus point of the engine is its torque levels. Add in a combined fuel consumption of 48.7mpg, which for a large estate is frankly amazing.

ON THE ROAD: I expected nothing but the best because my test car was fitted with AWD - which basically means you can take it anywhere you like subject to ride height of course.

By Anthony Yates

Volvo have done a great job in getting this system to work on all surfaces - while still allowing it to feel like a normal road car once you hit the tarmac.

INSIDE: Volvo's interiors are all very similar across all model ranges – but I would really like to see Volvo push the envelope sometimes.

Some of the standard equipment in the XC70 includes: City Safety, ABS (Anti-lock Brake System), DSTC (Dynamic Stability and Traction Control), IDIS (Intelligent Driver Information System), Bluetooth Handsfree System and a seven inch colour display screen.

Safety is what a Volvo is about without a doubt, but the amount of standard kit inside also boggles the mind.

TO SUM UP: A great machine that will do its upmost to please you every time you turn the key.

Exiles put U's League One hopes into doubt

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United have been dragged into the highly contested race for automatic promotion after being held to a 1-1 draw at Newport County on Tuesday night.

United were without top-scorer Kemar Roofe, who hobbled off before kick-off, and took the lead through Jordan Bowery early on.

However, the lead was short-lived as Medy Elito levelled things up and a determined Newport side managed to hold on for the point in a result that keeps the Welsh side further away from relegation.

Danny Hylton struck the post for Oxford early on after cutting inside down the right after eight minutes.

Bowery grabbed the opener four minutes later after a through ball from Chey Dunkley was nudged into Bowery's path who neatly tucked the ball into the net.

However, after only two minutes, The Exiles were back in the game when Elito hit a screamer into the U's net from 20 yards.

James Roberts dragged a shot wide after 31 minutes before Maguire fired wide of the upright ahead of the half-time whistle.

Dunkley had a header cleared off the line as the game headed into the second half with the U's then having to scramble the ball away from their goal-line in a series of Newport attacks.

The U's rallied forward after the hour mark and Roberts again was wide of the mark on 68 minutes with Maguire's whipped strike flying into the Exiles' 'keeper's clutches.

U's 'keeper Benji Buchel then made a stunning save at full-length to block Mark Byrne's effort around the post as the game headed into the closing stages.

In the end, neither net bulged for the second time leaving Oxford to fall to third in the table with only two points separating second from fifth and three games left to play.

Oxford entertain Hartlepool at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday, looking for only their ninth home league win of the season.

A win is considered a must by U's fans to ward off the threat of Bristol Rovers and Plymouth who are all chasing United.

Collier hits five in Freds rout

SAM COLLIER scored five goals as Wantage Town pulled off a surprising 7-1 mauling over Bishops Cleeve on Saturday.

Stuart Cattell's men duly provided putting in their best performance of the season with the win.

Kirk Layton bagged the opener for Cleeve after eight minutes which sent Wantage on the offensive and Collier bagged his first just seven minutes later after a through ball from Cameron McNeil.

Just fifteen minutes later, Collier then gave Wantage the lead after capitalising on a long throw into the box from Sam Barder.

The Freds were then awarded a penalty on the stroke of half time when Mark Francis was brought down in the box and Collier dispatched the ball home to seal his hat-trick.

Collier was then on four for the day just after the restart when a ball fell into the forward's path down the left and he smashed home.

It was five for Wantage and Collier on 55 minutes after Collier picked up the ball on the edge of the box and he struck home for five.

Ten minutes later Barder then got himself on the scoresheet to make it six and with fifteen minutes left Jack Johns then grabbed the sixth.

Blues beaten in Salisbury fight

WITNEY RFC were narrowly defeated 20-14 in their penultimate game of the South West 1 East against promotion chasing Salisbury at Castle Road.

A hard challenge from Rhys Morgan prevented Salisbury from breaking the deficit after 10 minutes with a try-saving tackle.

Salisbury then couldn't stop Witney winger Ben Fisk from speeding down the wing to touch down after rapid passing from Witney's backs to send them into a 5-0 lead.

However, the home side then grabbed a penalty through full back Tom Lane before a run from Neil Tonge led to a Salisbury try which Lane converted.

Witney soon hit back through second row David Hyde who won a penalty that Henry Lamb duly converted.

Salisbury then snatched a try in extra time after Witney's defence broke and prop Richard West crashed over the line before Lamb converted another penalty for the Blues to keep them in the tie.

With the score 17-11 heading into the second half, an offside call led to Witney closing the gap with another penalty from Lamb.

The game became stretched and tense with Salisbury finishing the Blues off in extra time with a penalty through Tom Lane which rounded out the scoring.

Witney play Leighton Buzzard on Saturday in their final league game of the season at Hailey Road.

Kick off is at 3pm.

Blues' play-off dream falls apart

• Luke Coulson (right) in action for City (picture by Mike Allen)

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD City's play-off hopes were quashed as they failed to register a win for the fifth game in a row, falling to a 3-1 defeat at Hemel Hempstead Town on Saturday.

Lee Henderson bagged Oxford's goal in what was their fifth defeat in six games as City's season, which promised so much before Christmas, is now teetering to a disappointing slump.

The home side struggled to break down the Blues throughout the first half, however the gates to City's goal soon burst open before the referee blew the half-time whistle.

Morgan Ferrier opened the scoring in the 44th minute after being allowed to roam down the right before cutting in to slide the ball past City 'keeper Laurie Walker.

Graeme Montgomery then found some pace to power past Walker before the referee called time.

Henderson was then accused of handballing in City's box and Ben Herd stepped up to the penalty spot for Hemel.

The 'keeper pulled off a stunning stop to deny Herd's shot but in the resulting melee the ball fell into the path of Michael Richens, who passed it into the net.

City managed to bag their consolation through Henderson, who leaped highest to head the ball into the net on 69 minutes.

However it appeared too late for City to mount a comeback and they failed to bulge the Hemel net again before the full-time whistle.

The result sees Justin Merritt's men drop to 11th in the table.

It will provide sobering thoughts for City, who were flying late last year up in second position in the National Conference South.

Merritt had targeted the play-offs with the squad and after the defeat the blues now drop out of the race, knowing they mathematically cannot catch the play-off sides.

Oxford travel to play-off chasing Dartford on Saturday in what promises to be a tight affair as they attempt to put an end to their winless run.

Chinnor bag eleven in Launceston thrashing

CHINNOR RFC recorded a stunning eleven tries against already-relegated Launceston in a thumping 75-3 win.

The deadlock was broken after 20 minutes when Greg Goodfellow dummied over the line from five metres before Kieran Goss danced his way over.

The tries were followed by another effort from Henry Lamont before Launceston's full-back Alex Edwards grabbed three points for the away side with a penalty in front of the posts.

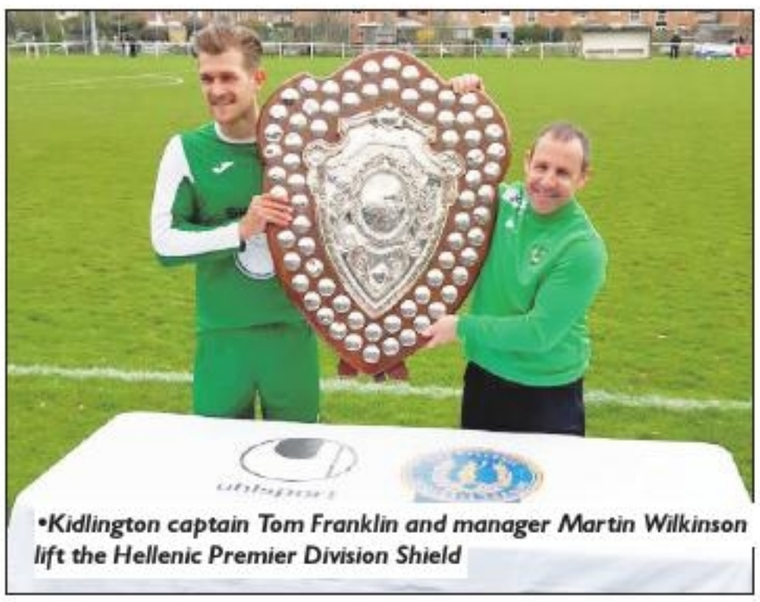
Nearly straight afterwards a kick downfield was caught by Goss, who then darted down to the Launceston's touchline to cross before Oscar Heath followed up the effort with another try.

Sam Angell converted all of Chinnor's tries for a 35-3 half-time score.

Launceston held off the Chinnor force for 18 minutes in the second period before Heath bagged his second of the day and Lamont followed with another shortly afterwards.

Substitute Nathan Hannay then got himself on the score sheet with a try off the back of a rolling maul before Goodfellow sprinted 45 metres to snatch a ninth effort for Chinnor as they seemed unstoppable on the offensive.

Lamont slipped the ball into Ben Manning for the tenth before skipper James Tyas ran from the halfway line to grab the final 11th try for the home side.



•Kidlington captain Tom Franklin and manager Martin Wilkinson lift the Hellenic Premier Division Shield

Greens held as they lift trophy

KIDLINGTON FC lifted the Hellenic Premier Division Shield on Saturday after the Greens came from behind to draw 3-3 with Tuffley Rovers in their final league game of the season.

Martin Wilkinson's side came into the game off the back of 13 consecutive wins in the league, which led to them securing the title with a 2-1 win over Lydney Town on April 9.

Wilkinson's boys were jaded from the off in the encounter at Yarnton Road and Tuffley's Warren Mann grabbed the opener in the fifth minute with a low shot past Greens 'keeper Sam Warrell.

The goal woke Kidlington up and on 21 minutes Kristian Thomas equalised after Lewis Coyle whipped in a cross into the box.

Tuffley then turned the tables on the Greens once more as Ryan Williams fired home in a swift move from the visitors after 34 minutes.

Just four minutes later and it was 3-1 after striker Jordan Fletcher fired home after being left unmarked in the box.

Fletcher then hit the bar for Tuffley in the second half before Anaclet Odhimabo placed home a tap-in on 72 minutes.

The Greens bagged their third after 81 minutes when Ryan Brooks displayed lovely trickery to weave his way into the box before firing low into the net.

The Greens will play in the Southern League Division One South & West next season.

Plato just misses out on Donnington points

JASON PLATO suffered a poor BTCC weekend at Donnington Park after achieving a highest finish of 16th across the three races at the famous circuit.

The Subaru Levorg GT just missed out on the points in the third race after he was narrowly beaten by Volkswagen CC driver Aron Smith.

Plato's weekend suffered a tough start after he qualified more than four seconds off the pace in 19th position.

The Oxford-based driver battled to a 17th place finish in the opening race, with teammate Colin Turkington coming home 10th.

Things didn't improve for Plato in the second race as he raced to a 20th place finish just below teammate Warren Scott, while Turkington only managed four laps.

The 48-year-old raced hard to obtain his 16th place finish in the final race with Turkington finishing a few places behind in 18th.

Plato lies 22nd in the BTCC standings with just three points whilst Turkington is just ahead in 17th on 10 points, with Cole yet to register a point.

Up next for Plato and Subaru is a trip to the Thruxton circuit in Hampshire on the weekend of May 7.

Millers suffer fifth loss in nine

A TIGHT contest saw North Leigh fall to their fifth defeat in nine games in a 3-1 defeat to Shortwood United at Eynsham Park on Monday night.

The game saw the visitors take the lead after just six minutes when Jake Lee burst through and held off two Leigh defenders before firing home into the corner.

Morgan Williams then went close for the Millers, barrelling a shot at Shortwood 'keeper Tom King who blocked the effort with his legs.

Ben Brown then came close with two free-kicks for North Leigh, but King managed to keep the efforts out.

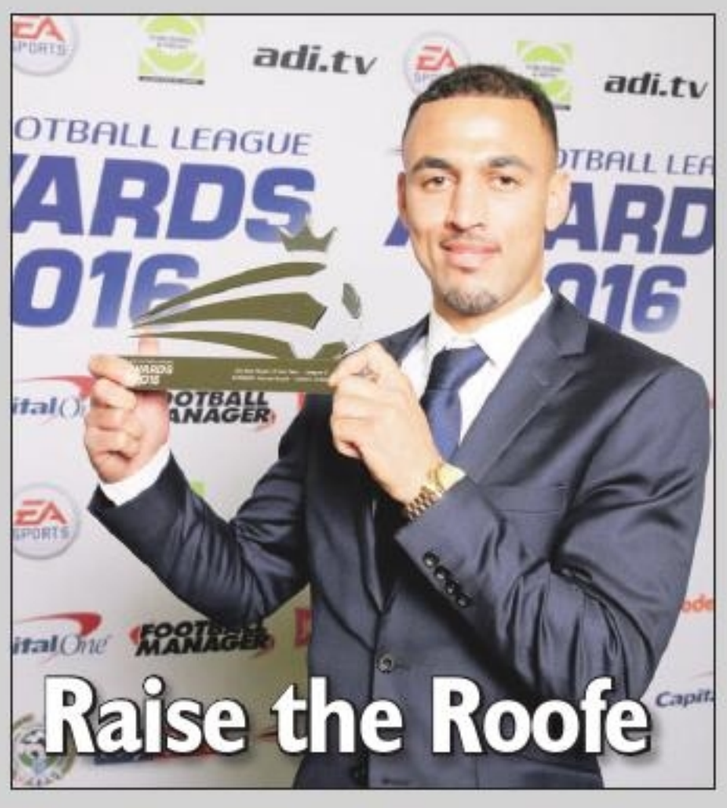
United's Will Morford then fired over the bar after good work in the Millers' box just ahead of half-time.

Six minutes into the second half and the Millers extended their lead after Millers 'keeper James Foster blocked a shot that fell into Nick Humphreys path, who laid the ball off for Morford to place into the net.

Matt Woodley grabbed North Leigh's goal on 75 minutes after the Millers broke on the counter-attack before Jake Lee finished the home side's resolve with a third for United on 87 minutes with a well-taken volley.

The result came after a 1-0 defeat for the Millers at Evesham United on Saturday.

North Leigh hosted Bishops Cleeve last night as the Guardian went to print.



OXFORD United's star forward Kemar Roofe was named League Two's Player of the Year at a gala ceremony in Manchester on Sunday night.

The league's 24 club managers voted in the category for the forward, who has netted 25 goals for the U's and has spearheaded their push for promotion.

The 23-year-old (pictured), who moved to the U's from West Brom last summer, received the award in front of 600 guests at the lavish ceremony.

Tough race sees Renault struggle

• Kevin Magnussen could only bring his Renault in 17th (picture courtesy of Renault Sport Formula One Team)

By Adam Flinn

RENAULT were unable to take advantage of an action-packed Chinese Grand Prix on Sunday as both their cars finished well outside the points.

Kevin Magnussen was 17th while Jolyon Palmer was dead last in 22nd in only the sixth race in history where every driver finished the race.

Magnussen went into the race having done very little dry running throughout the weekend, after mechanical troubles on Friday and rain on Saturday.

And the Dane struggled to make much of an impact on Sunday, and never ran higher than 14th before eventually finishing in the same position he started.

"It was a pretty steady race for me really, I had a decent start and then I didn't actually have much action, just passing people on strategy so no-one was really fighting hard," said Magnussen.

"This isn't a weekend that we will be very happy about but it's definitely one that we can learn from.

"There's a lot we still don't really understand so once we do, we'll be a stronger team.

"We knew it was going to be a tough start, we're not panicking."

Palmer had a tougher afternoon, although he was able to take advantage of the early safety car to run in the top-10.

He briefly ran as high as seventh, but after pitting for the first time dropped back down the order.

In the end he finished at the back of the field, just over two seconds behind next-placed Rio Haryanto.

Palmer said: "The start was good, as was the first lap – we made up a lot of positions.

"The balance of the car was all over the place, tyre degradation was bigger than usual and the pace wasn't as good as previous races. I'm definitely happy to move onto the next race.""

Next up is the Russian Grand Prix on May 1.
